FROM THE HUB.

The Mayor and Aldermen of Boston to Visit Us.

The City Council Will Entertain Them in Royal Style at the Knutsford.

Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock the mayor and aldermen of the city of Boston will arrive in Salt Lake. They will remain in the Pullman at the Union Pacific depot until 7:30, when they will be met by a delegation of the Salt Lake city council and escorted to the Hotel Knutsford for breakfast. Later there will be a carriage drive to all points of interest in and around the city, including probably an impromptu musicale in the tabernacle and a trip to the temple tower. In the afternoon they go to Garfield Beach on a special train tendered by Superintendent Bascraft, and in the evening there will be a banquet at the Knutsford. There are about seventeen in the party. The object of the visit of the aldermen to the west is to inspect the underground wire system of San Francisco and other such modern improvements that Boston does not enjoy. The arrangements are in the hands of Councilmen Moran, Folland, Hardy, Bell and Evans.

UTAH WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

An Official Organ—Junk County's Resources—Novel Exhibitions.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the publication of the Utah World's Fair Abstract, the official organ of the Utah World's Fair commission. The first number will make its appearance about June 1. Junk county has reported to the World's Fair commission on the products and resources of the county. This county will make a good showing at the World's fair. A constitution has been prepared for the government of junk county's fair association. The work of organizing the counties will be commenced soon after June 1.

A gentleman, recently from Chicago says that the site assigned to Utah for building purposes, is, without doubt, the best location assigned to any of the states or territories. A novel exhibition has been suggested for the agricultural department, which consists in a representation of the unique village farm system, methods of irrigation, etc., and other matters pertaining to the agricultural life of the people of Utah. Quite a collection of rare books and manuscripts with concise notes on portions of Utah's exhibit at the World's fair. A large number of these old relics can be gathered up among the people of the territory. Many of them extremely valuable.

ALMOST A FATAL ACCIDENT.

While J. R. Middlemiss was waiting opposite Ben Whittenmore's hotel, at 6 o'clock last night for the train for Bonifant, a young horse harnessed to a light wagon was frightened at the cars and became unmanageable. Mr. Middlemiss went to the driver's assistance. Grasping the frightened animal by the bridle, the horse reared and struck him to the earth, kneeling upon him; then springing up, ran over his prostrate form with the wagon. Mr. Middlemiss was taken to his hotel in a hurry, where his injuries are being attended to. His escape from a horrible death is almost miraculous.

MONEY COMING TO UTAH.

A Large Loan and Trust Company Seeks Investments.

S. W. Sears, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in reply to a Solicenteady, N. Y., loan and trust company, wrote as follows:

SALT LAKE CITY, May 21, 1892.

"Mr. W. R. Kelly, South Seneceady, N. Y."

"DEAR SIR—Your favor of the 16th inst. to our enterprising citizen, Mr. W. E. Hubbard, has been handed to me for reply. We have sent you by this mail some pamphlets which will answer most of your questions and any point which is not fully covered by the printed matter and this communication, if you will drop us a line we will be pleased to give you more definite information. Many eastern people are turning their attention to Salt Lake city and the reason many others do not do so is because they, in all probability, do not dream of the many advantages of this much favored locality. Here nature has been most lavish with her gifts. The combination is such that those who are dissatisfied here would be hard, indeed, to please anywhere. Our mountains are rich in precious metals, as well as coal and iron, and all in such close proximity to each other that they can be used to the greatest advantage. Our extensive ranges furnish the nutritious grass for the grazing of cattle and sheep, so that our local markets constantly supply the very finest class of meats, still leaving a large surplus for export to the trade centers of the east. From our mountain streams we must obtain the finest trout and at prices which are not excessive even to being within the reach of the mechanic and laborer, while our orchards and vineyards produce fine fruit in as great variety as can be found in this latitude anywhere. In the extreme southern portion of Utah some tropical and semi-tropical fruits are successfully grown. We are in the very midst of raw material for the manufacture of almost everything required for the necessities and many of the comforts of life. Capital is needed for a more rapid development of our industries. Many millions could be profitably employed in this direction and it is gradually coming to the attention of the east that Utah must make some rapid strides in material development. One reason for capitalists holding back previously has been a very general but erroneous impression that society was not upon a proper basis here, that our children and schools were not as good as they are in the east, that our citizens lacked the culture and refinement possessed elsewhere. Another reason has been that capitalists in the far east have thought that nothing was good security for their investment which lay west of the Missouri river, and Salt Lake was associated in their minds with Australia, Japan or China, but this impression has been removed to a great extent and will soon be obliterated entirely, bringing in a new era for Utah, and it is a safe prediction that it will not be many years before investment in a state possessing all the advantages enjoyed by Utah will be at a premium over less favored localities which may occupy a more easterly position on the map. Our climate is simply delightful, no earthquakes, no cyclones, no tornadoes, no blizzards, no sunstrokes, with the temperature seldom falling to zero or rising above 90 degrees. Our beautiful inland "dead sea" furnishes one of the finest bathing resorts in the world, thousands daily visit and bathe in its clear saline waters during the months of June, July, August and September. Our electric cars carry passengers through streets 100 feet wide to their urban and suburban homes. The great width of our streets are admirably adapted for rapid transit. We have no real estate boom, but a steady and healthy appreciation of values, and this is the safest place in America today for real estate investors, the value of realty is yearly advanced by the actual growth of the city. Between two and three hundred buildings are now in course of erection, some of them quite imposing structures as shown by the official permits granted recently. This does not include the many suburban homes just outside of the city limits where no permits are needed, and where at the present time there is a great deal of activity. We have many miles of sidewalks paved with Portland cement, and our principal thoroughfares are either paved or the work is projected. No city can boast of finer water works, and our parks and public buildings are modern and approved kind. Trusting our effort to give you an idea of some of the advantages of our city will prove satisfactory to you, I am, yours truly,"

"S. W. SEARS, Secretary."

GRAND JURY REPORT.

A Rather Light Business—Condition of the Penitentiary and Jail.

Following is the grand jury's report: Hon. Charles S. Zane, Judge District Court of the Third Judicial District: Having completed our labors, your grand jury submit the following report: Since being empaneled on April 11th, 1892, we have diligently investigated all cases brought before us, having considered sixty-three, finding true bills under the territorial laws in four, and under the territorial laws in forty-two, and have ignored four brought under the United States and nine under the territorial laws; examined one hundred and eighty-seven witnesses.

We examined the public institutions in the district, and in regard thereto, have the following suggestions to make: That the bathing and closet accommodations at the penitentiary be enlarged, and the sewer system improved and enlarged to correspond; this should be done before the summer's heat.

The city jail of Salt Lake is not suitable for the confinement of the petty offenders usually incarcerated therein, lacking all modern conveniences and being too small; we cannot too strongly urge that it be replaced by a new one at as early a date as possible.

Respectfully submitted this 21st day of May, 1892.

(Signed) J. F. JACK, Foreman.
 C. H. KENT, Clerk.
 Salt Lake City, Utah, May 21st, 1892.

The Garde House a Paragon.

Attorney LeGrand Young called upon a motion for a new trial in the estate case of the property known as the Garde house, and asked the court to pass upon the question as to the uses to which the property had been put for a number of years prior to the institution of the suit. Judge Zane was of the opinion that it had been used as a paragon, but felt that he was precluded in the matter by the decision of the supreme court, and so overruled the motion.

Mayflower and Northland.

The attorneys in the much litigated case, presented a motion to Judge Zane yesterday asking for the dissolution of the injunction as to all the ground in dispute except that embraced in the sale of the McCluskey, proprietor dining department; Bechtel & Sands, proprietors hotel department.

A BUILDING BOOM

Remarkable Activity in the Waterloo Additions.

NUMEROUS FINE RESIDENCES

Sidewalks Being Laid, Streets Graded, Shade Trees Planted and Scores of Elegant Residences in Course of Construction.

It is very generally conceded that Salt Lake has entered upon a new season of unexampled prosperity. Evidences of it are seen on all sides, not the least of which is the activity in the building of new business blocks and new and elegant residences. The list of new buildings for which permits were taken out which The Herald published a few days ago, does not by any means give a full idea of the amount of building operations which is going on in our midst. Permits are taken out only by parties who erect structures within the city limits, but there is a vast amount of building operations going on in the sub-divisions just outside the corporate limits which are never reported to the city building inspector. A Herald reporter having occasion to pay a visit to the south eastern part of the city yesterday, was peculiarly struck with the changes which have taken place there within the past few weeks, particularly in the Waterloo additions. The old race track now known as East Waterloo presents quite a scene of activity. Men are busily engaged in grading streets and laying sidewalks and a regular army of builders are at work on fine new residences, many of them very large, comfortable and handsome structures. The East boulevard is graded and is one of the finest drives anywhere around the city. The shade trees are looking very fine and others are being planted.

The reporter was amazed at the change which the whole neighborhood had undergone within only a very short time. It is only five weeks since East Waterloo was a bare spot. Some of the best and most substantial citizens have purchased lots and are building fine homes there, all of which goes to indicate that this is going to be the favorite residence portion of the future. General J. S. Withers bought a lot in that section last Friday with the intention of building there and making it his future home. E. L. Ray, who has a very nice home just lately built, Secretary Sears of the chamber of commerce also acquired fifty-six lots in close proximity, and is about to build. One stately home made of all fine and wide. The sidewalks are being laid with cement and are five or six feet wide. The neighborhood is abundantly supplied with artesian water, and at this season of the year when all nature is smiling, East Waterloo looks very tempting for those who wish an elegant site for a home. The car facilities are good, the electric cars going and coming every twenty minutes. There is a good deal of building going on in the other additions, but Waterloo seems to lead them all and in a very short time will be the city's fashionable residence portion of the city.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out.

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. Thereafter I felt like a new man."—J. C. ROGERS, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite."—ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having
